

Week 3- Fred Claus

Fred and Nick have a super strained relationship in the beginning of this movie, a lot of which comes from the fact that Fred never feels seen. Have you ever felt like you were in someone else's shadow? How did that make you feel?

When is it harder for you to forgive, when they don't say sorry or when they don't change?

Which is easier for you, cutting people off or trying to work things out?

Think of a relationship in your life that has become strained or distant. What caused the distance?

Read Colossians 3:13

What is the hardest part of living this verse out?

Why do you think the Bible connects forgiveness to remembering how much we've been forgiven?

Is there a relationship in your life that's worth fighting for right now?

Forgiveness is a decision not a feeling. What would it mean for you to forgive this week, even if it's still hard?
